#52 The Book of Mormon, if true!

If we literally accept the Book of Mormon as truth, and follow its teachings and eliminate any and all trust in men of flesh. Relying now only on the words given us by God in its pages. Then we realize a whole new world of instructions pertaining to righteousness and this land we live on as we refrain from just picking and choosing only those things in the history we want to use, and include the entire history. We actually identify the United States as the choicest land in the world, the only land of Liberty unto the Gentiles, the land in which the gold record was hidden up, and then brought forth to go throughout the world from the tops of Isaiah's everlasting mountains, the actual Land of Promise, previously referred to as Eden. Now if we allow ourselves to do this, lets just see what happens:

First of all we find out that the Gold Record, an abridgment of the real records of Nephi. You see, unlike those in its history who actually handled, even made entries in the real Gold records of Nephi, there was and still is no one among the Gentiles in our day who God could, or can trust with those real records as before. You see the records Mormon and Moroni prepared under God's instructions were only an abridge copy of the real records.

Then even that abridge copy was only entrusted for a short time to a Gentile, as he sinned against God and they and the interpreter was taken away.

Nevertheless, Gods will prevails and a copy of the abridged record comes forth, given the name, The Book of Mormon by those involved. The Book of Mormon within its pages was never called the Book of Mormon, but the Holy Word of God, as there already existed a Book of Mormon.

Now according to its writings, the Gentiles were given the temporary job of using these records in convincing first of all the rightful heirs to the record, the remnant of seed of Jacob or the Lamanites. Secondly then the convincing of the Jews and world, but as a sign of the times, as the Jews accept its teachings, the end is near.

Some where in here, the Lamanites or seed of Jacob accept the Book of Mormon as truth, while at the same time the Gentiles in control of the record sin against God. Moroni even chastises them of our day by saying "Why have ye transfigured the Holy Word of God?" he then says, "Why have ye polluted the Holy Church of God?"

So some where in time, priestcrafts as spoken in of the Book of Mormon have crept into his church, the Holy Word of God has been altered in precept or word, having men take upon themselves the power of God in altering Gods words and precepts, which no man can, according to its teachings. And a strange thing happens.

Everything is taken from the Gentiles, and given to the seed of Jacob. While the details are not explained, the transfer takes place where by not only the control of the Book of Mormon as it is called goes back to the Lamanites, but they actually receive the entire Promised Land as their inheritance.

Now this is what it says, and it's a huge step in the history and it's at our door step. Go back in time, remember how proud the leaders of the church were when Brother Lee, a Lamanite become a member of the seventy. Woo, a new and powerful voice rang out over conference. It actually caught my attention, as it woke me up listening to his words. But it was short lived. He began to speak of this time when the transfer of power to the Lamanites would take place. When this was spoken of, he completely disappeared off the scene. He was completely discredited, insinuating that he was immoral, and a bad person. They treated him much like Elder Dunn when they found out his war stories were not true. The only difference was, Elder Lee's information was true. I went to St. George and found Elder Lee cooking in a fast food restaurant. I only was able to speak to him for a minute.

While he might have been a little premature in his offerings, he was true in what he said, the authority brought about with the Gold record both, as it pertains to religion and land ownership will in fact transfer to those of the seed of Jacob.

Now those in control of the present church would like to have us believe that they are those people, but according to the Book of Mormon, if we as Gentiles are diligent in convincing the Lamanites of this record and their ancestors and this transfer takes place, those Gentiles could be adopted into their blessings.

So it is plain to see, according to what is written that the Gentiles presently controlling the Book of Mormon and Holy Church of God which has become polluted are not those to who this power an authority is transferred, but the actual blood lines of those who have remain on this Promised Land.

One other thing. While my brother-in-law, a young painter was painting at the vaults in Little Cottonwood Canyon, finishes and is then asked if he would like to remain and file and put things away inside the vaults, he agreed. In doing so, he ran across a letter to one of the past prophets from an Indian. It was very interesting to him and he made a copy and brought it home. After reading it myself, I ask for a copy and got one. Unlike most of similar information floating around, I had a copy of the original letter. Its very interesting, it tells of a white Indian tribe living a little south and west of Mexico city living in a walled city about seven and a half miles long on the east side of a range of mountains.

I wont go into a lot of detail here, but I located the location of the city on maps. The chief of the tribe sends out runners to neighboring tribes, who then do the same, which then covers the entire America's from the tip of South America to the Tip of Alaska. The purpose was that it was for a meeting of the leaders of tribes to meet and unite under one leadership in preparation for the last days. They met at a lake near Mexico city, I located it also on a map, and there was two meetings of which there is a record in the Mexican government, as they visited the meeting to see what was going on.

The just of the first meeting was to unite all tribes under the leadership of one leader. The second meeting this white chief was elected as the leader of all Indian Nations. He then proceeded to give instructions for the latter days. As a result a complete temple has been built in pieces, which is to be taken to where it is to be erected.

These people, of which have been ready for a number of years are to move northward in two huge bodies, millions in each body. The first is to cross the Rio Grande River where it runs east and west (Easily located on a map), they cross the river and wait for the second group. When the second group arrives, the first group then moves north following a range of mountains which never see the setting sun. (there is only one range of mountains which fits) The second group then moves towards the rising sun or eastward until they reach the mighty river (Mississippi). They follow the west side of the river until they find a stone marker which indicates where the temple is to be erected. In the mean time the first group moving northward runs into a group of white people, They unite, even though they do not speak the same language. (Some might think this is the Mormon's , but I think it is those of the lost tribes plus a handful of Gentiles having listened to the prompting voice from heaven (Revelations) and removed themselves from Babylon to then prepare to meet up with those of the Lost Tribes. This combined group then moves eastward to connect with the other group who has located the place where the New Jerusalem is to be built. Now you can draw lines on a map to identify this spot.

The white chief indicates at the end of the letter that “We come in peace, but if we are not accepted in peace, we come anyway.”

I shared this letter with an Indian friend of mine from Mexico. He was a returned LDS Missionary. He said he knew all about it, that the people were ready to move. This was a number of years ago.

So even from without the church, activities seem to be moving forward to fulfill prophecies within the Book of Mormon.

It appears that there will be an exchange of power and authority regarding the Book of Mormon and religion, and that the entire Promised Land or the United States, the only land of Liberty unto the Gentiles will also revert in ownership to the Seed of Jacob, and it might happen very soon.

I just wonder what the Gentile church leaders will do when their very foundation is pulled from under them, as prophesied and appears will happen.

Fortunately, in my genealogy I have an Indian Grandmother.
